

Respect for Thought

Contributed by Fethullah Gulen
Sunday, 15 January 2006
Last Updated Friday, 03 March 2006

Criticizing and objecting to everything means an attempt to destruction. If you do not like something try to make something better than it. Being destructive causes ruins while being constructive brings about prosperity.

Give value to every word in a meeting. Don't immediately reject those that don't conform to your ideas. Think that the idea might have been expressed from a different viewpoint and be patient until the end!